Health Scientist Administrator Positions

The National Institutes of Health invites you to apply for two professional tracks currently available in one of the 27 Institutes and Centers. Come join the nation's premier medical research agency, where we are making important medical discoveries that improve health and save lives! The National Institutes of Health has a number of Medical Officer and Health Scientist Administrator vacancies. The salaries for these positions are based upon individual qualifications and professional experience. A full benefits package is available, which includes retirement, Thrift Savings Plan participation, health, life and long-term care insurance.

- As a Medical Officer in intramural, you will be responsible for administering clinical, basic and independent research programs; analyzing, evaluating and generating scientific and clinical data; and conceptualizing new research direction and projects.
- As a Medical Officer in extramural, you will utilize your medical expertise to administer extramural research grants or contracts in a major program area. You will evaluate activities of funded investigators and make recommendations regarding the contribution of the research to the goals and objectives of the program.
- As a Health Scientist Administrator (Program Officer), you will stimulate, plan, direct, and evaluate activities for a portfolio of research projects, research program and other grant/awards, cooperative agreements, and/or contracts in the assigned program area and the discovery, development and evaluation of associated prevention and therapeutic strategies.
- As a Health Scientist Administrator (Scientific Review Officer), you will be responsible for the initial administrative and scientific merit review of grant applications for research programs and/or research training and career development grants through interaction with established scientists in a variety of fields. You will assure the fairness and consistency of the scientific peer review process and provide guidance on peer review policies and procedures to applicants, reviewers, and Institute staff.

The Health Scientist Administrator positions will be accepting applications from September 6 – September 15, 2013 for Montgomery County, MD location.

The Medical Officer announcements will be accepting applications from September 20 – September 29, 2013 for Montgomery County, MD & Baltimore, MD locations.
